MEAD IS MUMM CAPITAL

The University of Nebraska has designated Mead as the Mumm Capital of Nebraska.

The Firemen's Auxiliary has ordered 2,500 centennial mumms to be distributed around the community for planting.

The Mead Rescue Unit is equipped with all the latest gear—plastic splints, oxygen services, two-way radio. This is a Chevrolet unit which has been virtually rebuilt by the members of the Mead Fire Dept. In two years of service, this unit has responded many times. It was the unit that rescued 12 people caught in the blizzard of '66 among those the Rev. Walter Rundin and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Konecky. Manning the unit (above) are Fire Chief Everette Hilfiker and driver Philip Miller.

ALVIN 1876 MEAD 1880

Blazing Building Progressing 1967

ALVIN-1876 MEAD-1880 was originally named after Governor Alvin Saunders. Joseph Strudevant was the first resident, station agent, and Postmaster. The Omaha, Republican Valley Railroad ran from Valley, Nebraska, through Mead, to Wahoo, Nebraska in December of 1876.

Early in 1877 C. T. Condit and Charles Ostenberg came from Fremont to build a general store, the C. T. Condit residence, Charles Condit and Ostenberg elevator, and lumber yard. A hardware store was also established by William Becker.

On September 12, 1885 Ola Carlson and wife and L. Anderson donated what is known as the Anderson and Carlson addition to Mead. C. W. Wilson also donated a track of land known as the Wilson addition. Mead had changed during August, 1880 from the name of Alvin to Mead. By this time Mead had grown from one business to nearly thirty.

1910 - Mead was still a thriving town, even though the saloons of the early frontier days had disappeared. The livery stables were replaced in 1913 by brick and concrete garages. Telephones came in the early 1900's. In 1914 electric lights and running water were taking over the lamps and wells. In 1928 the original volunteer Fire Department was chartered.

1942 - During this year a government bomb assembly plant was in operation and brought to Mead many new residents and thousands of workers from within a 50 mile radius of Mead. Many buildings were converted to cafes to accommodate the influx of workers. During the early to middle 50's the plant shut down and was turned over to the Air Force and Army to be used as a Missile site. This site also shut down during the summer of 1965. Much of the land is now occupied by private individuals who purchased the land and about 2,000 acres are devoted to the University of Nebraska Field Laboratory. Many of the buildings and homes now remain empty.

SCHOOL - The main concern in keeping with our Centennial year is, of course, our school. In the early 1880's a building was moved into Mead on the present town park site. In 1919 the present school building was completed.

Mrs. Ludmilla Svoboda 1914 — 1966

Farmwife

Promoter of Education, youth, civic, and church activities.

School Board Member 1952-54, 1957-66
President of Board 1957

Wife of Anton Svoboda
Mother of four, Ben, John, Paul and Ruth.

County Extension Board for several years.

Active in 4-H

Promoted FFA and FHA activities.

First known woman to receive the Honorary Farmer Degree awarded by the FFA

Passed away Nov. 21, 1966

Mrs. Svoboda served education well. Her loyalty and unselfishness dedication will not be forgotten. Her knowledge and interest in her school and community favorably influenced educational progress. She touched the lives of every person through her many activities. Ludmilla was never too busy to help school officials, clubs, town people, or youth. As we begin our 66-67 school year we pause a moment to dedicate our Centennial Yearbook to Mrs. Svoboda. In our effort to blaze a trail through the Centennial school year, may we be reminded of Ludmilla Svoboda's efforts to make us better citizens.

Senior Trip

Armed with cameras, food, and, of course, waterguns, the Senior Class left Lincoln May 5, for their long-awaited trip to Colorado.

Denver greeted them with 2" of snow, but by noon the sun was shining. After a day of viewing various points of interest, like the Air Force Academy and Pike's Peak, the weary Seniors loaded up for the long train ride home.

It was truly one of the highlights of the Senior Year.

Backing a losing team is not too exciting, but the Mead Pep Club maintained their spirit and go throughout the Raider season. Having fun, backing the Raiders, was reward enough for them and the school. Where there is spark; there is life whether losing or winning.

G. Hageman, C. Larson, Renae Hageman and R. Carritt have hope, but feel the loss.

Sing a song to me, louder, LOUDER, cries Keith Wiegert, Music Instructor as he leads the music groups to near perfection. Let your voices ring across the plains of Nebraska-land and through the airs of Mead. God gave you a voice so use it. I don't care if you only get a half of a credit, music is an expression of the heart. Personal joy is reward enough. So to the joys of Mr. Wiegert the students did hear him as they returned from music contest with their rewards and a heart full of joy and satisfaction.

Gary Zicafoose misses the rebound.

Coach Meyer gives last minute instructions to the reserve team as they trounced Waterloo 53-29.

Larry Meyer coached his reserve Raiders to a 6-6 season. An inexperienced team coupled with a lack of height seemed to be the major weaknesses for the young Raiders.

RAIDERETTES

The Mead Raiderettes and their Coach, Mr. Haag, were rewarded for their efforts with a winning season and a first place trophy in the ECNC tournament. Their only two losses were to Prague in the regular season and to Waverly, eventual winners in the John F. Kennedy Invitational Tournament.

It was a determined team that went out on the court at the ECNC tournament in Weston. The girls were seeking revenge from their main foe, Prague, who had beaten the Raiderettes earlier in the season. The noise in the gym was deafining as the Raiderettes took command with an easy victory in two straight sets, earning for themselves the title of ECNC CHAMPS!

Mary Williams and Audrey Fick enjoy a smile as they helped the Raiderettes achieve a CHAMPIONSHIP WIN over Prague.

PHIL COOKE

Track is a rugged individual sport that requires much personal effort. This is also true of the men who put forth much personal effort in blazing a trail through Nebr.

100 years

1867-1967

In this Centennial year, as we close this school year, it is our hope that the '67 Graduates will continue to blaze a trail for their children and their children's children.

The trail ends this year - 1967 - only to open insight for a new trail.
